THE WILDCAT

CENTRAL BY MOONLIGHT

Dedication

O that kindly, earnest man, who is endeared in the hearts of every Central student by his quiet personality, his unswerving loyalty and his unselfish service, do we dedicate the nineteen hundred and twenty-seven Wildcat.

MR. F. C. KAY

Foreword

IN the years that are to come, recollections of days spent in Central will be dear to the hearts of us all. To so paint in word and picture the events of this school year as to have them stamped forever upon our memories is the purpose of this book.

School Song

1 O Yale's the ever blue,
And Harvard's crimson hue;
Centennial's the red and white
And Denver's red and blue.
But give to us those colors
So dear to every heart.
The white and blue of Central
From which we ne'er shall part.

CHORUS

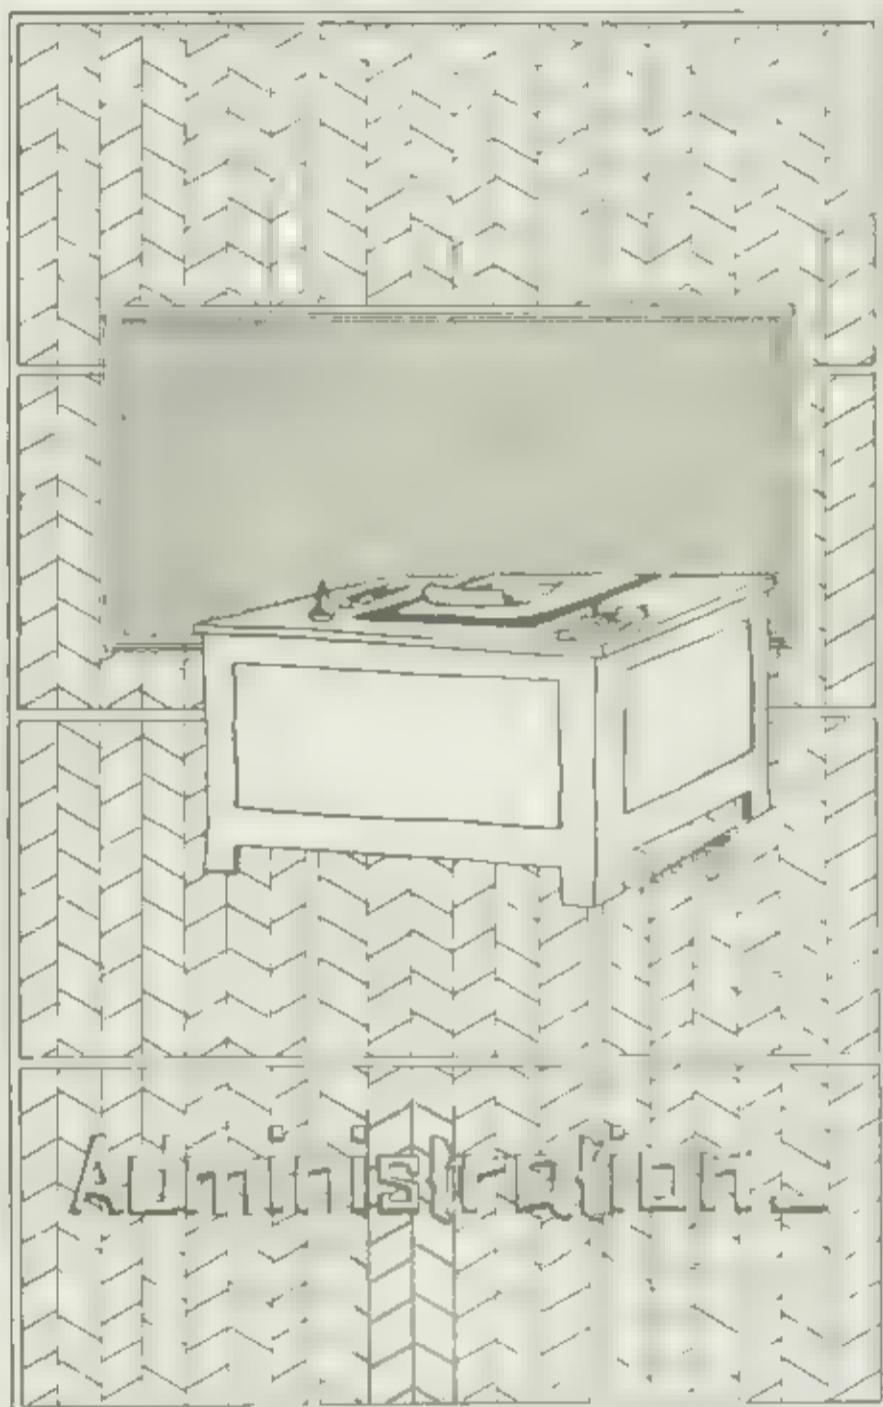

Hail, dear old Central!
The white and blue
We'll honor and adore.
Hail, dear old Central!
We'll shout for victory
Once More!
Hail, dear old Central
The pride of the West
And best of them all!
Long may we love her,
Dear old high school,
Central!

In baseball we excel,
In track we do as well,
And victory's a thing, it seems,
That we can all foretell.
The rush of our old warriors
Our foes can never stop;
The white and blue of Central
Will always be on top.

Hidden away in a remote recess of Central's halls is a little office marking the headquarters for one of the most important groups connected with the school. In order to go to school we must have heat, water, lights, and similar essentials. For this very reason, D. N. Wells has the maintenance crew of industrious workers who take care of every school building in district twenty.

All plumbing, carpenter work, electrical work, painting, etc., in the district, is done by the maintenance crew under the direction of D. N. Wells, supervisor of buildings. A carpenter shop is maintained near the Central grade school; the plumbers, electrician, and painter all have equipment furnished so as to be able to handle any circumstances arising.

Mr. V. P. Atkinson

For the first time in the history of Central, a handbook containing school information has been compiled and edited by the governing body of the school. The Student Council was organized in 1923 as a means of initiating a form of co-operative government into Central and is developing gradually into a highly efficient, controlling body. The duties of the Council are executive, legislative, and judicial.

The Student Council has accomplished many projects for the good of the school. Special trains were managed by this group; the annual vodevil proved a remarkable success under their direction; the students' creed and the students' handbook are the first to be produced by our representatives; courtesy week and president's day never have been quite so successful in the past three years as they were this year.

The real accomplishment of the youthful service aspirants, however, was the clean-up week, which seemed to revolutionize Central's student life. Under Richard Beatty's administration, by-laws and amendments were created giving power to this governing body, that it might inflict some punishment upon the ever present vandals.

Growing out of an insatiable need for a middle group to co-operate and help the Student Council comes the Cosmopolites, which was created April, 1926, as a representative body composed of plenipotentiaries from every officially recognized organization in Central High school.

The new venture, still in its embryo stage, is chartered to be one of the strongest factors in student life, because its members represent all student activities. The ten students making up the Student Council can not give the sense of democracy, the feeling of all the students, or the vital touch that is manifested in a convention of nearly forty boys and girls from the cream of student life.

The three specific duties of the Cosmopolites are: (1) providing co-operation between the Student Body and the Council; (2) creating school opinion; and (3) aiding in enforcement of student regulations.

The Cosmopolites have started to play an important part in enforcing laws, and bringing the Council in close contact with the student body. The work of the Council can now be recognized. The monthly meeting of the Cosmopolites bring together into one group the representatives from the following organizations: All four classes; Owl, Olympic, Forum, and Ciceronean Debating societies; Aletheorian and Clonian Literary societies; Hi-Y club, Commercial club, Spanish club, French club, Latin club, Girls' Athletic club, Boys' "C" club, Glee clubs, School Times, Annual Staff, Band and Demonstration manager.

The furrowed brow of the stalwart senior, clad in his colors of blue and gold as he plods his weary way to school, calls to mind the fleeing moments spent in the halls of Central.

The members of the class of '27 are the very ones that have pioneered in so many activities from the beginning of their high school career. As Freshmen they started the Christmas play; as Sophomores they started the Freshman-Sophomore social hours. And as sophisticated Juniors, they had a "pioneer party" which was the first held in this school. The class for two years has boasted its essay and oration winners.

As for the Hallowe'en party given by the P. T. A., the social hours, parties, and other frolics, none have seemed quite so successful. The "Senior Play," Senior Hike, and all the pompous emanations of Central's school-life have been recorded elsewhere in this record of the seniors' year.

This year has been a busy one for the one hundred and sixty Juniors. The class has given its best efforts to make the past year a bigger and finer year for Central. In all the phases of school activity, in sports, in literary endeavor, in music, on the stage, and in scholastic attainment the Juniors are well represented.

The production of "Bab", the Junior Play, was the first achievement of the class. An exceptional cast presented the play which was well received by the school.

The Junior Party was a Pirate affair. The Gym was decorated to resemble the deck of a ship. Ladders and ropes were strung from the floor to the balcony, which was, of course, the upper deck. Beneath this deck hung a life-boat. It was a full-sized passenger row-boat. Max Hinschaw and Charles Rinker thought it was the biggest part of the party. They carried the boat five blocks to the school. A program was given in the auditorium. Then the deck of the "ship" was cleared for "action." Ice cream was served in moulds of skull and cross-bones.

Six Juniors won football letters; three won basketball letters. The majority of the track squad is composed of Juniors and Carolyn Jones as captain.

James Watkins, Dean Stoddard, and Helen Shepherd represented the class in the Oration Essay Contest. David Kushnir was a member of the interscolastic debate team. Calvin Simmons and Esther Lohmiller carried away honors in the Scholastic Contest, sponsored by Western State College.

As the annual goes to press the class is working on plans for the Junior-Senior Prom. to be held at Minnequa University Club.

Setting a new precedent, the Juniors will wear their Senior rings to the Prom.

The orange and white colors are being recognized by all as those hues depicting the progressive class of the school or in other words the Sophomores. No group in school has taken such intense interest and displayed such fervency in class organization as was exhibited by our class elections. Printed ballots, precincts, clerks and judges were utilized in the modern efficient progressive system.

Our Sophomore class meetings and social hours have shown the same remarkable spirit prevailing. We waived aside precedents this year and have written our class song now instead of waiting until the senior year.

Real kids were charmed with the genuine "kid party" given December 10. Delightful costumes and pleasing entertainment were bountiful. Room 203 captured the candy prize offered to the room first paying all their dues.

We Freshmen, of the class of 1930, may be little and tiny, but all will acknowledge that we have entered Central at an auspicious time to display our merits. Our group was the first to give the student's creed and has created a tradition in pronouncing it before the other three assembled classes.

Attributable to our efforts are the regular assembly periods for the Freshmen which are called every two weeks. By this procedure we hope to develop better speakers and create class consciousness.

The Freshmen frolic was a renowned success; attired as milkmaids and farmer boys we gathered, on October 16, among corn stalks and pumpkins for our autumn festival. Room five received the prize box of chocolate pumpkins for the cleverest stunt.

We believe that we did our part in making the Christmas program this year better than those of former years. One notable improvement was including boys in the chorus. The program consisted of two parts; first, Christmas carols, sung by the carolers and the audience; second, the portrayal of the Christ Child's birth, the journey of the wise men and shepherds. We pledge ourselves to enter into our future work with the same zest as we have displayed this year.

Emerging from Central's Beany Bible Bunch, established many years ago, is the Central Hi-Y Club, which is carrying on the Bible study as well as performing definite acts of service for the school and the community. The program of the Hi-Y club has been extremely interesting throughout the year.

All games and special trains have received plenty of hot dogs and candy service at the hands of the Hi-Y; the money received from this is given to foreign missionary work. As Christmas cards were added to the sale list this year, the Hi-Y was able to give more for foreign work than ever before.

The program for clean-up week as given by the members of the club did much toward improving school conditions. The club was active in having C. B. Miller speak to boys in this region. An attractive assembly program was given by the Hi-Y club. The great Prima Dona in the vodevil proved a great success and was truly enjoyed.

Summary

"Bab" is a comedy in four acts, by Edward Childs Carpenter, based on the novel by Mary Roberts Rinehart. The leading part was portrayed by Dorothy Dick, who in the role of Bab, a young debutante and co-ed, tried to make her family and friends take her seriously. She returns home unexpectedly from boarding school two weeks ahead of schedule and proceeds to stir up the family. Within a fortnight she has upset the marital plans of her debutante sister, cleverly staged by Lenore Stillman, and invented a love affair for herself which, made to appear more serious than it really is, greatly disturbs the family. Ronald Green was exceptionally good as Carter Brooks, as were Grace Highberger and Lawrence Perkins in the roles of Bab's father and mother.

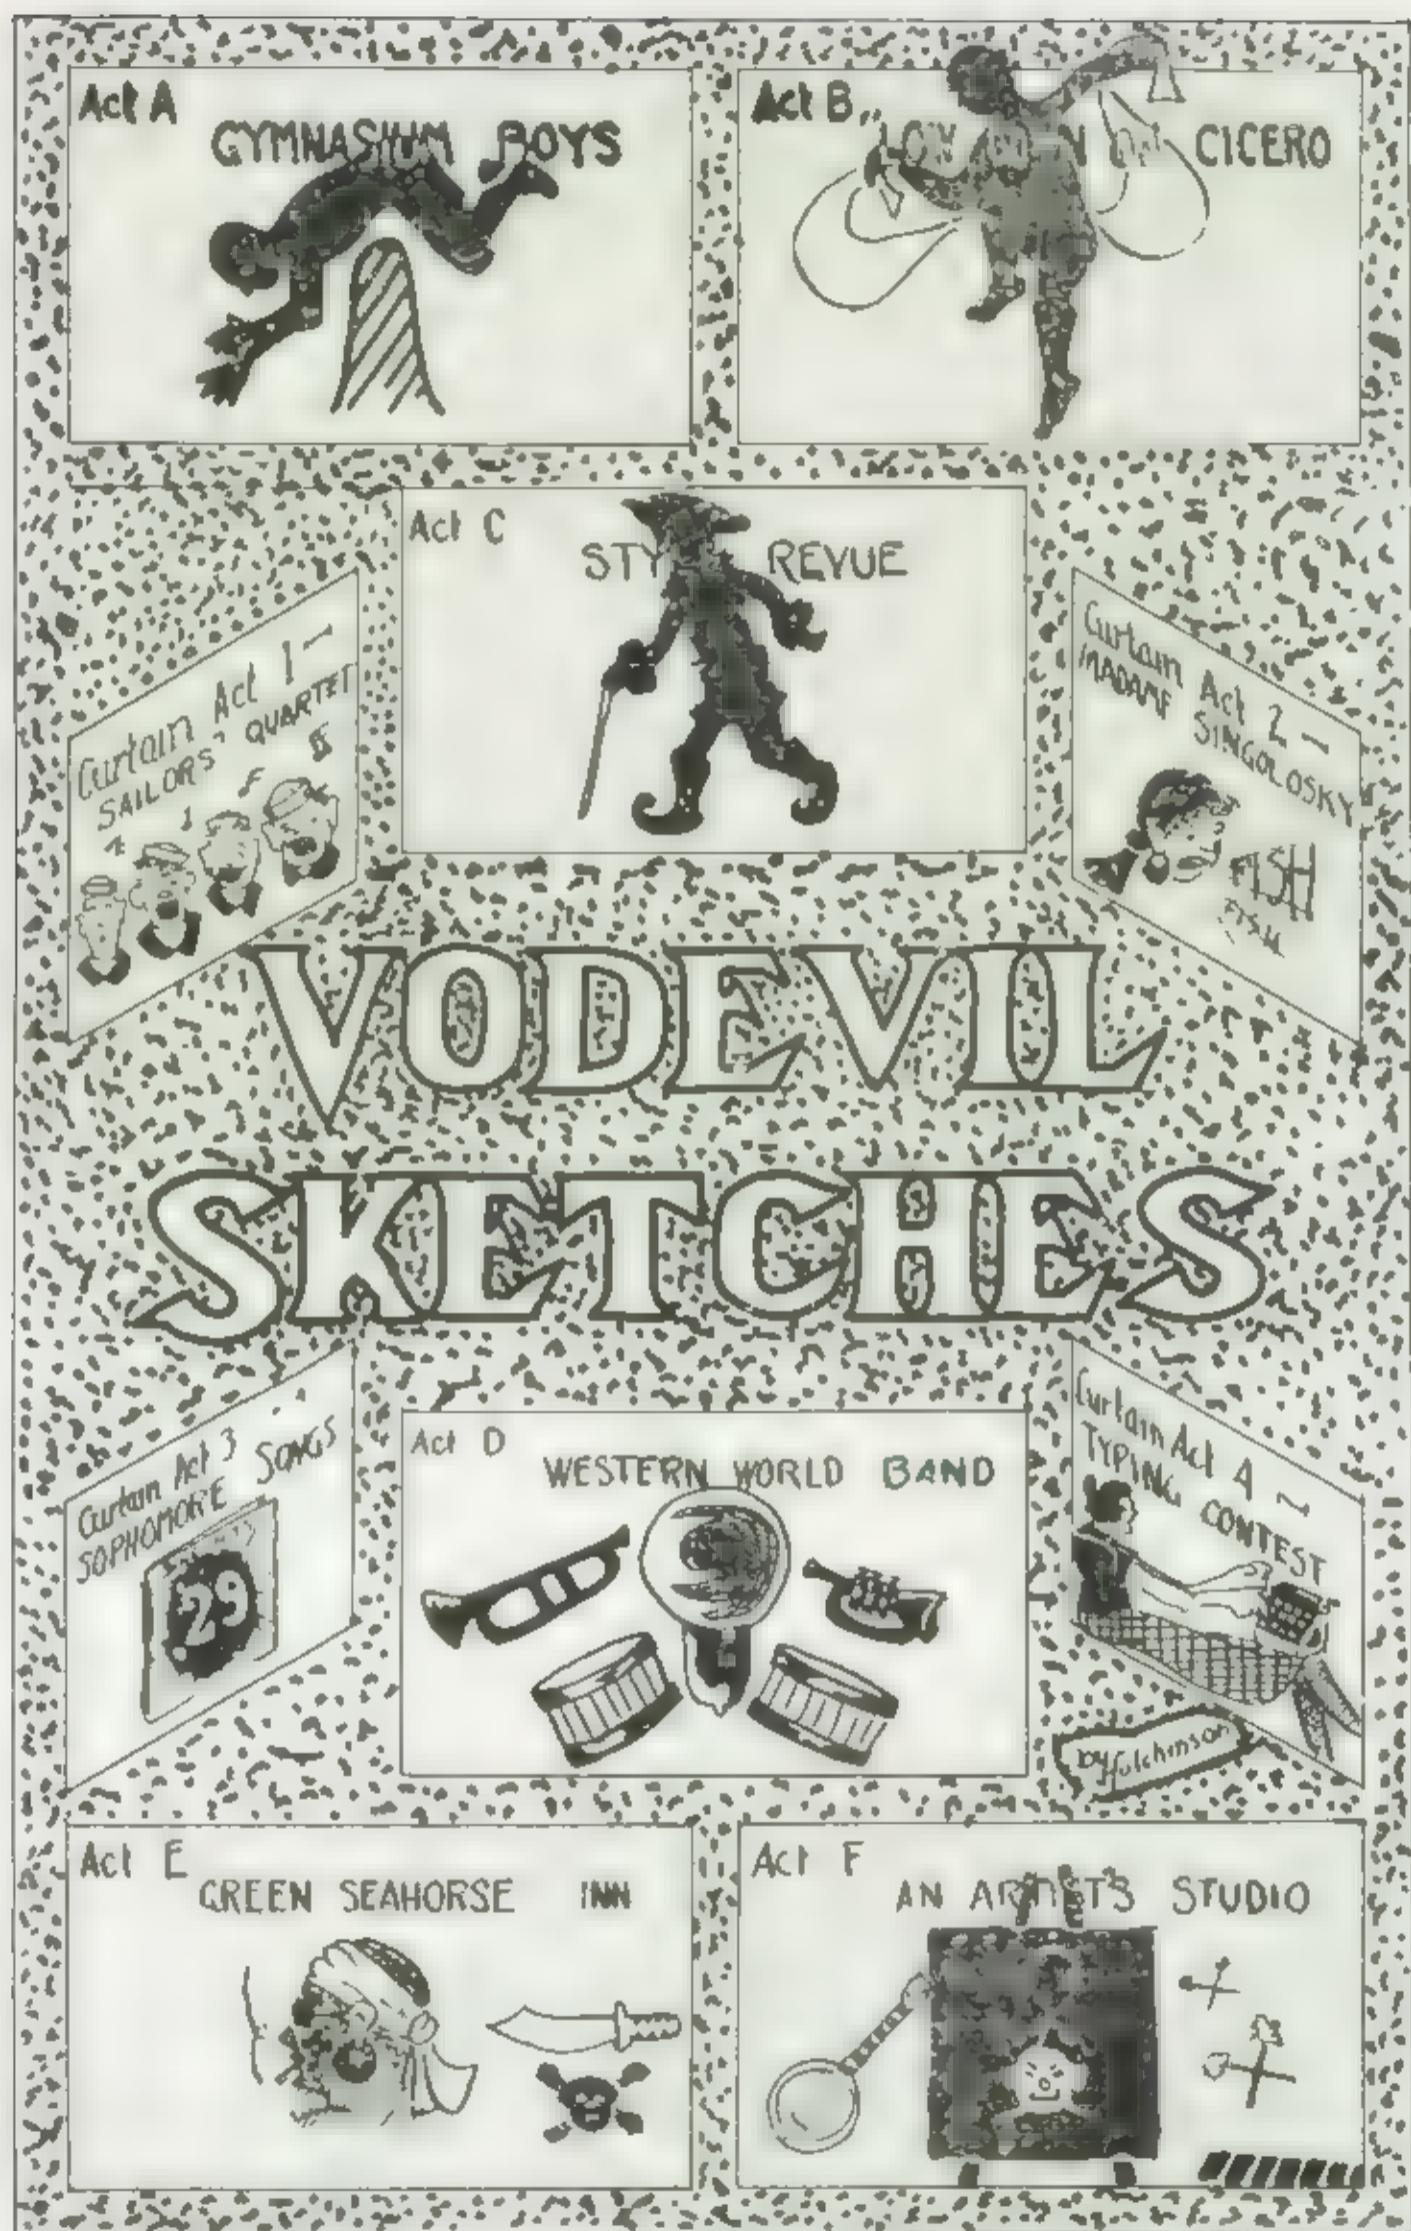

Senior Play

The senior class play this year was really a production of art. The play was a huge success, and the dramatic ability portrayed was more like the ability of professionals than that of amateurs. Part of the excellent work done by the cast was due to their competent director, Miss Sprengle. The play presented was "To the Ladies" by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connally. The cast of characters was as follows:

Leonard Beebe	John Fritsche
Elsie Beebe	Virginia Tedford
Kincaid	Richard Beatty
Mrs. Kincaid	Dorothy Schrader
Chester Mullin	Verner Carlson
Miss Fletcher (a stenographer)	Irene Thompson
Baker	Delbert Ross
Henrici	Miles Donnelly
Cassidy	Herbert Dickson
Moffam	David Morgan
Barber	Phil Holley
Bootblack	Willard Short
Truckman	Robert Knox
Second Truckman	Robert Prosser
Photographer	Wilbur Crowder
Guests at the banquet	Dorris Wells, Mary Carpenter

The central figures in "To the Ladies" are young Leonard Beebe and his wife, Elsie, a wise little girl from Mobile. They live in Nutley, New Jersey. Leonard is just the average young American clerk who reads all the "Success" stories and the "Know Thyself" advertisements in the magazines. He is also the type that buys grapefruit farms in Florida. Elsie has determined to make him something more than that. She has her hands full even has to make an after-dinner speech for him—but she does it.

The costuming of the characters, the lighting of the scenes, the beauty and fineness of the Christmas program was of the same high standard of our past Christmas Pageants. This annual production by the Freshmen holds a high place in our stage efforts.

Band

With the addition of new equipment and several new musicians, Central's band continued to render its fine orchestrations to the satisfaction of all Central students and patrons. It played at all our home football games, pep meetings, assembly programs, and parades, as well as at many other functions. In former years there has been a shortage of clarinets, but this is being slowly overcome, so that now Central has a very well balanced, as well as attractive band, as good in its line as the athletic teams are in theirs. Although several players will be lost through graduation, there are others ready to fill their places.

BAND ROSTER

CORNETS—Carl Christenson, Ignatius Valdez, Lawrence Perkins, Christie Sanders, Harley Chandler, Calvin Simmons, West Mayhugh.

Orchestra

After an absence of five years, the orchestra was reorganized by Mr. Stillman at the opening of the school year. It has made a very creditable showing at every public performance at which it has appeared. The orchestra helped to make the Operetta a great success this year. It has filled a long needed place at the class plays and other school functions. The orchestra's initial appearance at the City Auditorium was greeted with enthusiastic favor by all those that heard it. All instruments are represented, but more violins, violas, and string basses are needed. The orchestra is indeed a fine addition to our musical department, and we expect great things from it in the future.

The Glee Clubs

Activities of the three girls' and one boys' glee clubs have been many and varied this year.

Perhaps the biggest event was the production of the operetta "Rings in the Southwest." Six long weeks of hard concentrated work made it one of the best musical programs ever presented at Central. Three seniors, Francis Metaffey, Gena Wilson and Margaret Thompson, took the leading roles, while the rest of the principal parts were played by underclassmen. About fifty students were in the big chorus besides a few twenty who danced in the Irish and Hottentot choruses. The proceeds of this entertainment will go to buy capes which will be worn by the glee clubs at all future public performances.

The Band Concert

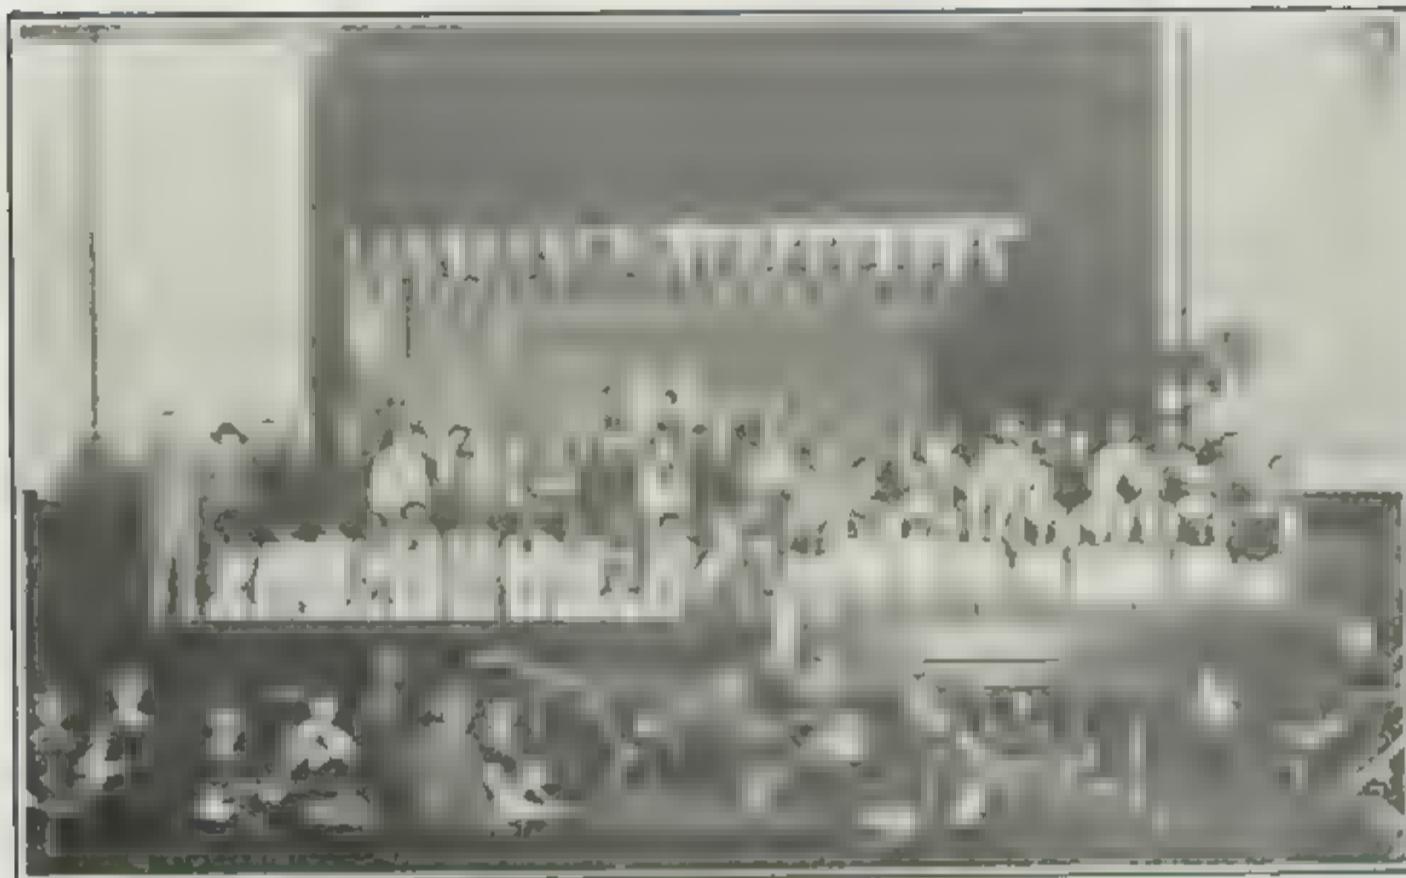

The third annual band concert, under the auspices of the band, orchestra, glee clubs, and drum corps, was given February 18.

Eight numbers composed the program: A group of selections by the band, a dance by four junior girls, two numbers by the senior girls' glee club and two by the mixed glee club. The booster sextette and orchestra then favored the audience with several numbers, followed by the group of senior girls who danced the Minuett. An ensemble of all who appeared in the entertainment ended the program by singing "Stars."

The band and orchestra went to Denver to the state contest in the early part of May.

One of the other big feature activities of the year was the participation in the Tri-“C” band concert on April 20 at the City Auditorium. The Central, Centennial and Colorado Springs bands united making one large group of about one hundred and twenty-five pieces. Three groups of three numbers each were presented. Fred Krink, director of Colorado Springs band, led the first group; Rei Christopher, director of Centennial band, led the second group; and H. C. Stillman, Central's band director, led the last group.

Although the band has not been quite as large this year as it has been before, it has done much good work for which Central is very grateful.

The Operetta

"RINGS IN THE SAWDUST"

The operetta presented by the G. Clubs, under the direction of Miss Mildred Walk, was enjoyed by all who heard it. The costuming, and staging were remarkable, as was the wonderful singing done by the Glee Clubs.

THE STORY

Alonzo Squeezem, a wealthy small town banker, holds a mortgage on a circus which Toby Dunn, the owner, is unable to pay. Toby Dunn, an estimable young man, has previously become engaged to Sally Squeezem, the banker's only child. This so enrages the banker that he threatens to foreclose the mortgage unless Sally promises to give up all thought of Toby. This she refuses to do. After a good many complications, involving a mock abduction and a lost mortgage, Sally and Toby are forgiven by the banker and all ends happily.

The Interscholastic Debate

Central's Interscholastic Debating teams opened the debate season with Centennial on the question: Resolved: That the Child Labor Amendment should be ratified. On March first Central's affirmative, consisting of Clarice Lamb, David Morgan, Richard Beatty, and Leo Altman, alternate, defeated Centennial's negative team, Bill Tyler, Tom Barber, Tom Herron, and Bob Shonsbye, in the Central Auditorium. Richard Beatty and Bill Tyler gave the rebuttals.

On the same evening in the Centennial Auditorium, Centennial's affirmative team defeated our negative, David Kushnir, Philip Duncanson, Herbert Dickson, and Glenn McMahon. In both debates the single judge system was used. Herbert Dickson gave the rebuttal speech.

On March 21, Central's negative squad traveled to Canon City. There Canon's affirmative defeated our negative with a two to one decision. Ruby Howe and Herbert Dickson were the rebuttal speakers.

Again on the first of April in the Central Auditorium, La Junta's negative team defeated Central's affirmative team, made up of Clarice Lamb, David Morgan, and Herbert Dickson, by a narrow margin.

ASSEMBLIES

First Assembly—Central's "Blue Laws" were lifted, thus permitting students to leave the grounds during noon hour. Principal Pitts spoke about athletics, scholarship, and school spirit. Attention was emphasized by Superintendent Keating while the Student President denounced the indifferent student.

Sept. 24—First pep rally of season with J. D. Allison and Wayne Smith attired in new blue and white uniforms. The Wildcat spirit revived and helped our team to trounce North Denver.

Oct. 6—Girls' assembly at which time factors of success and character were discussed and explained. Mrs. Lafferty, superintendent of nurses at Minnequa hospital, talked on the moral phases of character; Miss Wilson, the social, and Miss McNally, the essentials of a good business personality.

Oct. 8—Homecoming day the program was furnished by the alumni with the Student President presiding. Speeches were delivered by Leo Kelly, Tom Bartley, Val Marmaduke, J. F. Keating, and L. Pitts. Mrs. Edith Bid dall gave two vocal selections. The Cat's Meow conducted a lively pep rally for the Canon game. This was the Cat's Meow's first public appearance with their white sweaters. All watched with excitement the re-enactment of the North Denver game upon the screen.

Oct. 14—Victoria Wesley defeated Lois Staley, Elsie Sajbel, and David Kushnir in a contest for the silver cup offered by Joe Stanko for the best essay upon the Community Chest.

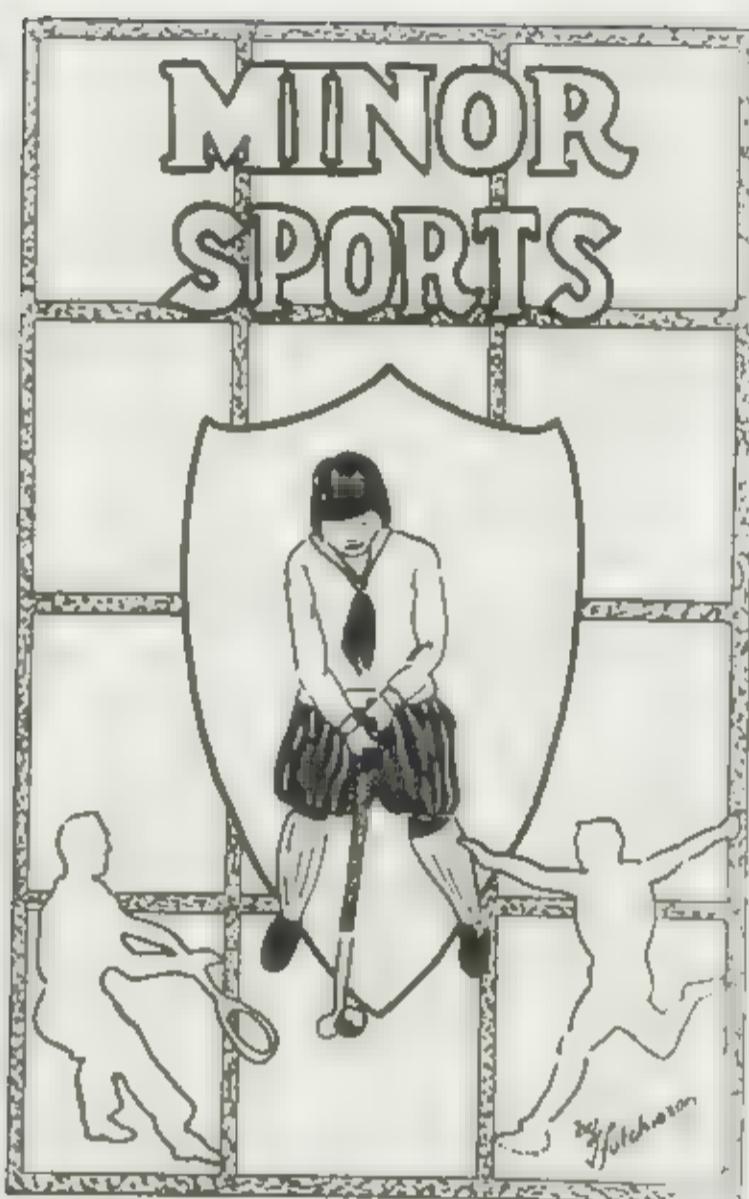

Oct. 25—Courtesy Week program was furnished by the Cosmopolites with Dorothy Schrader presiding; talks by the four class presidents were given.

Oct. 28—Prizes were awarded for season ticket selling contest by Fred W. Huling. To the Ciceroneans went the society prize; to James Watkins, a Ciceronean, the individual prize, while the boys' societies for their efforts were invited to a party in the gym that night at the expense of the girls.

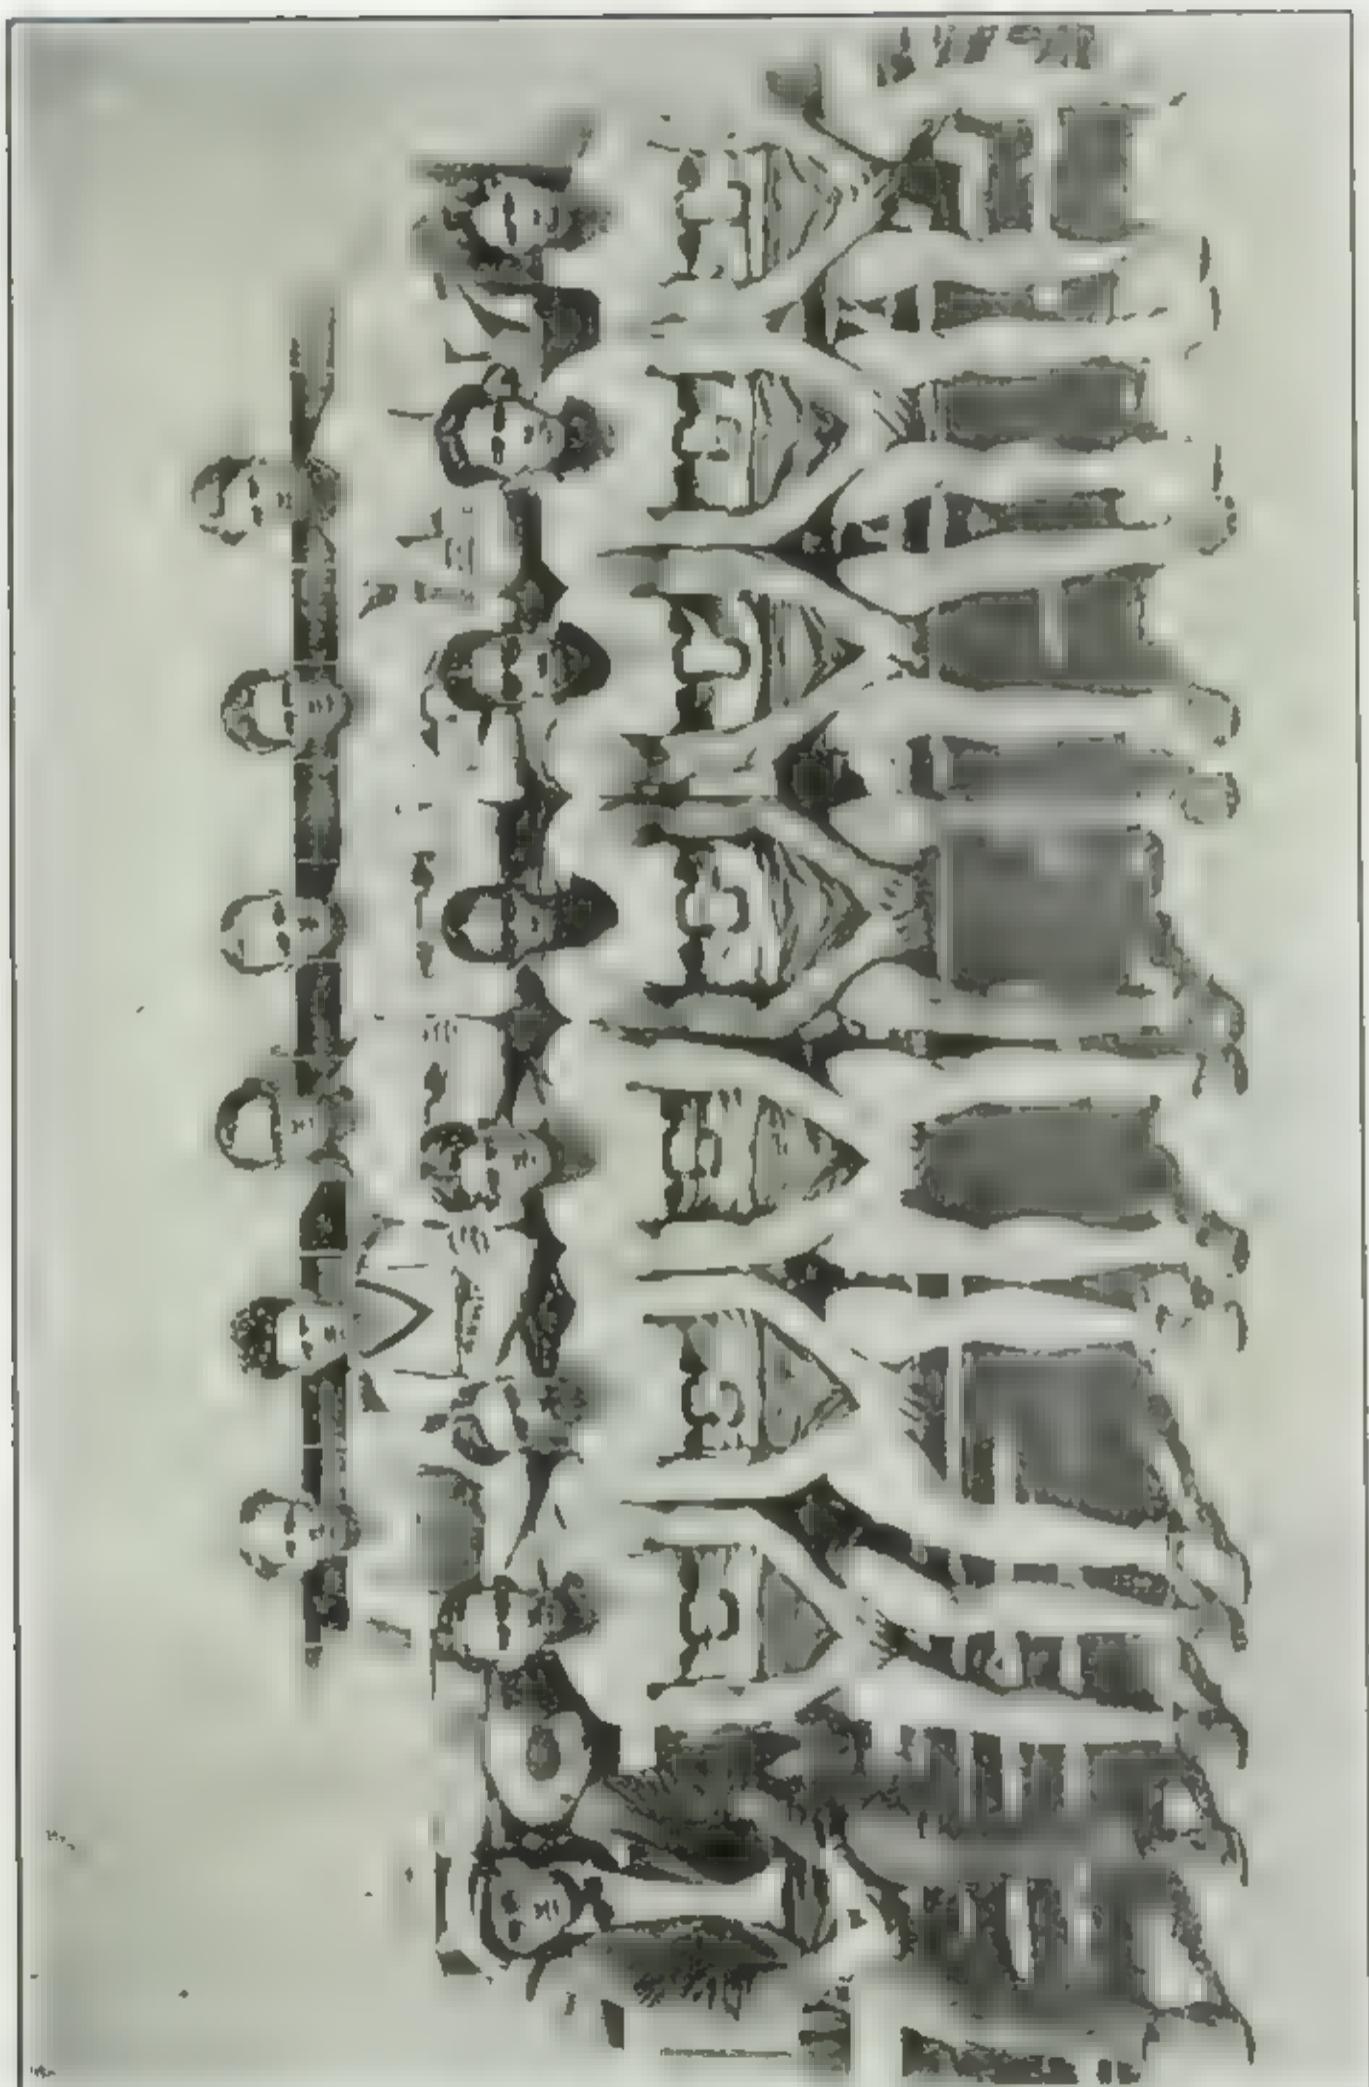

Nov. 3—Presidents' day was celebrated in a big assembly when the heads of twenty-four organizations delivered short speeches about the group which they represented. The organizations and their representatives were: Charles Keen, Seniors; Wendell Hauth, Juniors; Vera Prosser, Sophomores; Glenn Austin, Freshmen; Herbert Dickson, Times; Virginia Tedford, Annual; Philip Duncanson, Ciceroneans; Robert Prosser, Olympics; Jacob Kushnir, Forum; Henrietta Thompson, Chionians; Clarice Lamb, Aletheorians; Pauline Hellstern, Owls; Estelle Allison and Ralph Batie, "C" Clubs; Carl Christensen, Band; Zinn Stillman, Gee Clubs; John Babcock, Hi Y; J. D. Allison, Cat's Meow; Lupe Martinez, Spanish Club; Anna Tomsick, French Club; Carolina Odissio, Latin Club; Celestia Yost, Commercial Club.

Nov. 5—"Travelers," a one-act farce, was presented by the third hour speaking class. The cast was Mr. Roberts, Miles Donnelly; Mrs. Roberts, Dorris Wells; Jessie, their daughter, Dorothy Venettisch; Mrs. Slidell, Estelle Allison; Freddie, her son, Richard Beatty; La Seva, Charles Keen; Chauffeur, Zinn Stillman; Luigi, Philip Holley; the Pallid woman, Mayme Rupert.

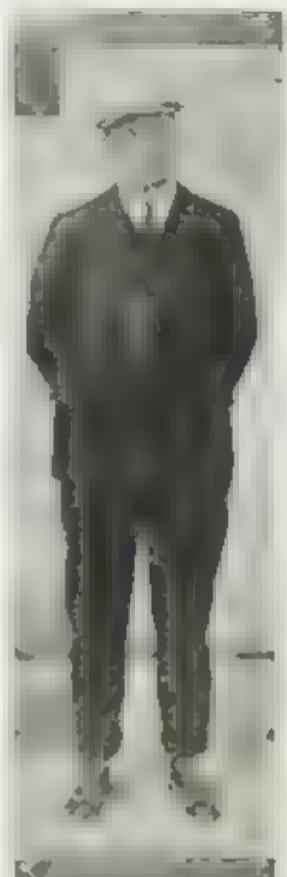

Nov. 11—On Armistice day there was an appropriate program by the council with taps and two minutes of silence in memory of the Allied soldiers who fought and died in the World war. An honor roll with the names of Central's boys who attended C. M. T. C. was presented by Major Leo Kelly of the O. R. C.

Track 1926

With one of the finest groups of track-men ever developed by Coach Daugherty, Central copped the city as well as the South-Central league championship last year. It took a team of national championship calibre to defeat the Blue and White cinder pounders.

In the annual Intermural meet the Juniors triumphed over the other three classes by the score of $90\frac{1}{2}$ to the Senior's $71\frac{1}{2}$, Soph's 21, and Frosh's 7. Boxwell, an erstwhile second year man, was the high scorer of the day. Next in order came the Relay Carnival held at the University of Colorado. Four Wildcats journeyed to the college town to capture fourth place with five points. Central was represented in this meet by four dash men, Clark, Douglas, McGinnis, and Jones.

The first meet of the season was a triangular affair between Canon City, Centennial, and Central. This meet proved a decisive victory for Central. Next in line came the conference meet—another easy win for Central. In this contest the Wildcats took ten first places. Douglas, the dusky hued Wildcat who is now starring at Northwestern, proved the shining light in this meet with a grand total of $21\frac{1}{4}$ points.

In the annual fray of the Arkansas, Central won permanent possession of the Lions' trophy by defeating Centennial for the third consecutive year. Centennial succeeded in taking only two first places, both of which were won by Hoag.

As a fitting climax to a most successful season, the Wildcats trekked to Boulder, annexing second place in the State meet. Although the blue-jerseyed boys took only two firsts, they placed second in nearly all of the events. The relay race which Central won, breaking the state record, was said to be the prettiest relay ever pulled off in the state.

The brilliant record of Central's 1926 track team will be long remembered, and the praises of such stars as Clark, Prince, Douglas, and McGinnis will be sung for decades to come.

Clark and Douglas proved to be the stars of the aggregation, each taking turns at being high-point man of almost every meet. "Speeder" won the high-point honors at the South-Central with $24\frac{1}{2}$ markers. At the opening meet, Frank Prince was elected captain, a just reward for many years of service to his school, both on the field at the weights and on the gridiron.

TENNIS SEASON 1926

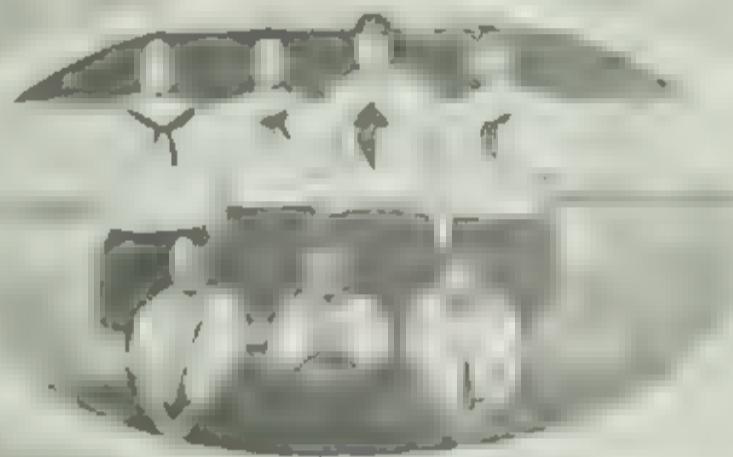

Central won her fourth league championship of the 1925-26 season when her racquet teams won the South-Central conference meet that was held on Pueblo courts the same day that the conference track meet was being run off. "Mex" Schrieber was the captain of the boys and Dorothy Herman of the girls. Both were hard hitters and were able to win many matches for their school. Central was very fortunate in having numerous devotees that were proficient at the game, and the coaches could call upon many substitutes whenever needed without visibly weakening the team's chances.

This is the only sport in which girls are permitted to compete in interscholastic competition and the following girls won their "C's": Herman, Allison, Schenck, Razor and Siple, three of whom were Juniors and will be back for the '27 season and should be able to win the title for the second consecutive time. Seven boys were good enough to win one or more matches and thus have the right to wear the tennis letter. They were Captain Schrieber, Ex-Captain Darnall, J. Porter, Clark, Tolfer, and L. Buck. Buck and Darnall are back with the team this year and have made a good showing.

In the matches of '26, the squad beat Centennial in every encounter and went down to defeat at the hands of the Colorado Springs Terrors, but they later retaliated and vanquished the Brown and White in two other contests, making the most successful tennis season that Central has ever had.

Girls Athletics

The five major sports which engage the time and interest of Central girls are tennis, hockey, volley ball, basketball and baseball.

Just a few weeks after school begins in the fall, a tennis tournament is held. This is to rank the players according to their playing ability. The 1926 tournament resulted in placing players according to rank as follows:

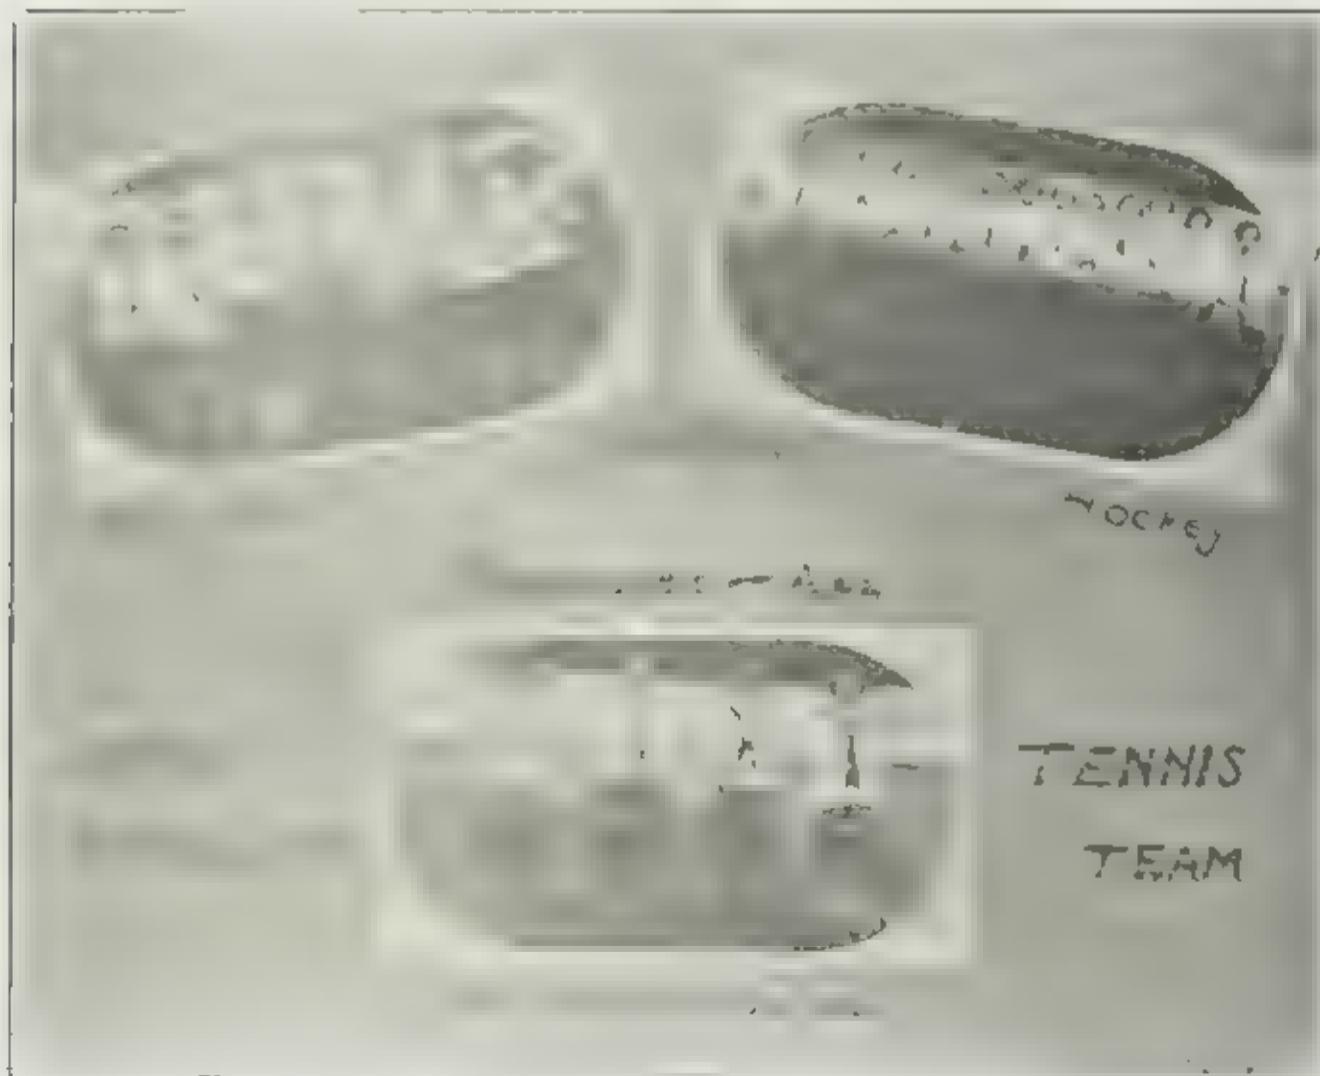

1. Dorothy Herman	6. Marion Hedgecock
2. Estelle Allison	7. Martie Bowman
3. Dorothy Razor	8. Nadine Buchanan
4. Lucile Siple	9. Fern Becker
5. Eleanor Johnson	10. Betty Lee Johnston

As soon as the tennis tournament is finished, hockey teams are organized and a schedule is planned. The Freshmen, as a rule, have enough players to make a team, but the upper classmen have to combine their forces.

At the end of the 1926 season, each team had won two games, and tied two games. An extra game was played to decide the championship and this gave the victory to S. J. S., captained by Marjorie Smith.

The volley ball tournament followed upon the heels of hockey. Fourteen teams competed for supremacy in this sport. Preliminary games were played in gymnasium periods, and only the finals were played after school. The Seventh Hour team, captained by Estelle Allison, won the finals and the championship which carried with it the privilege of meeting the Centennial girls' volley ball team in the first annual Play Day.

Basketball came next. Each class had a team of its own. This year there were enough Freshmen to make two teams. The schedule planned that each team should play twelve games, that is, three with each of the other teams. For the first time in the history of girls' athletics a Freshman team carried off the basketball trophy. The captain, Thelma Schrieber, and her squad were the first to receive the trophy. They are planning to keep the trophy in the possession of the class of 1930 until they graduate.

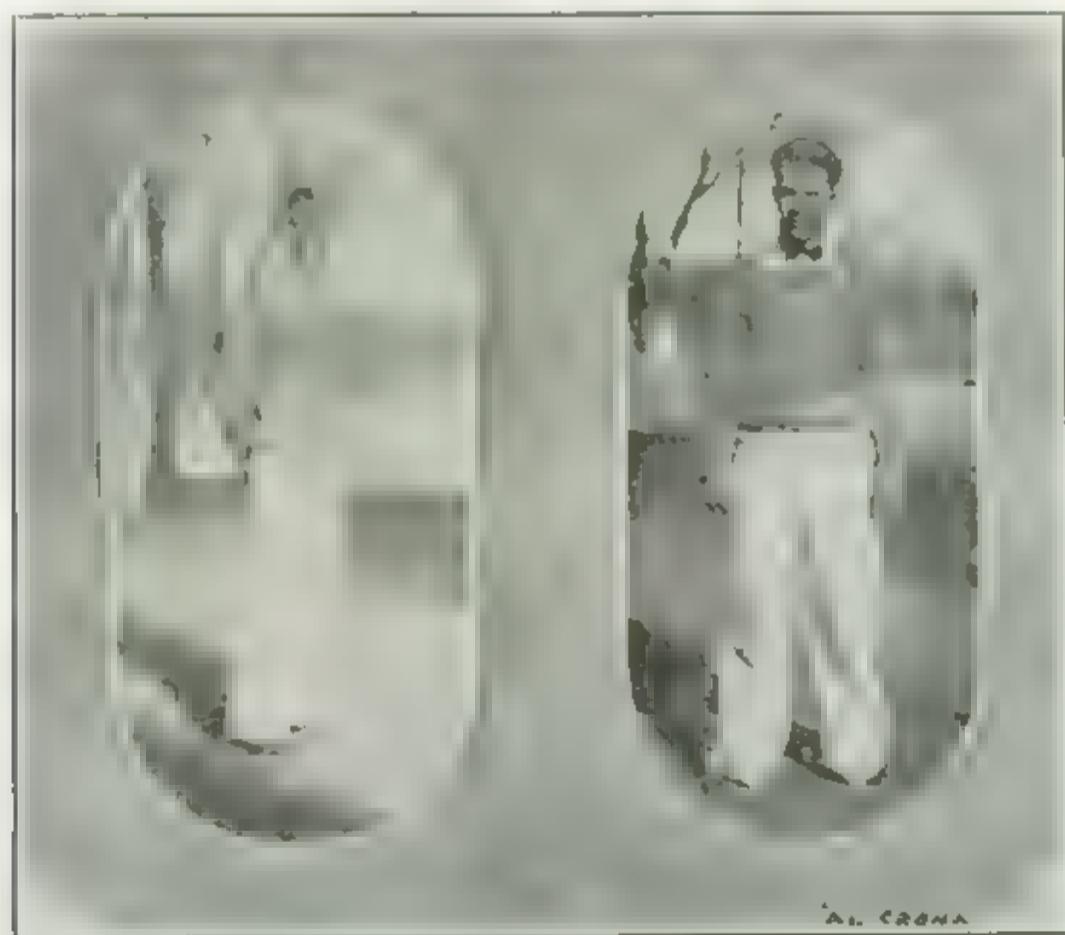

The baseball schedule was arranged just as the basketball was. The class of 1929 under the leadership of Grace Woods, carried off the championship in baseball.

After baseball another tennis tournament was held. This is the class tournament. Each class had three players, one for singles and two for the doubles team. Here the class of 1927 showed its skill and claimed the tennis title for the year.

An innovation this year has been the idea of the Central Centennial Play Day. The tennis play day was enjoyed in October on the Central courts. Later two volley ball play days were held, one at Central and the other at Centennial. The idea of the athletic play day emphasizes the fun of sharing your game with new friends, rather than the glory of defeating old rivals.

The Cheer Leaders

J. D. Allison and Al Crona have been our cheer leaders for two years. At every athletic contest these two have been instrumental in creating a good spirit in our school. We know that Central's spirit as well as her cheering is getting better and better. We may attribute this success, in part at least, to the untiring efforts of our faithful cheer leaders.

In the Spring of nineteen hundred and sixteen Mr. Fred Huling came to Central to head the department of physical education. With that job came the task of organizing Central's athletic program and rounding out a general athletic policy.

Prior to 1916 there was no regular interscholastic program for any of the sports. In 1917 the building burned and finances were not available for much development. With the completion of the new building activities began moving forward with great strides. In the fall of 1919 Mr. Pitts revived football which had not been played at Central since 1908.

In the fall of 1920 Mr. Huling and Mr. Pitts took the initiative in organizing the South Central Interscholastic League. Both have figured important parts in the League's development.

In 1921 Mr. Dougherty became track mentor. Two years later Mr. Oscar Hengstad was added to the coaching staff as football coach. In 1921 the Athletic field became a reality, and today after constant improvement, it is perhaps the best high school field in the state. It represents a valuation of $15,000. In 1922 a season ticket campaign was successfully held. The student support given in these annual campaigns has made for better equipment for all athletics.

Many conference championships have been won by all branches of the department. The high point so far reached is perhaps, the 1926 record of Coach Huling's basketball team. This team won the State Championship and then journeyed to Chicago to win fourth place honors in the National Tournament.

DENVER GAMES

Central began the football season with victories over two Denver teams in practice games.

In the game with Manual High, the weak spots were revealed. In this first game of the season, Central outplayed the Denver boys in every department of the game. The score was Central 6, Manual 0.

The game with North Denver was a game of two evenly-matched teams. Central's backfield showed great improvement over the previous game. For the first time in the history of football, a Pueblo team defeated the North Denver team. The final score was Central 7, North Denver 6.

THE CANON GAME

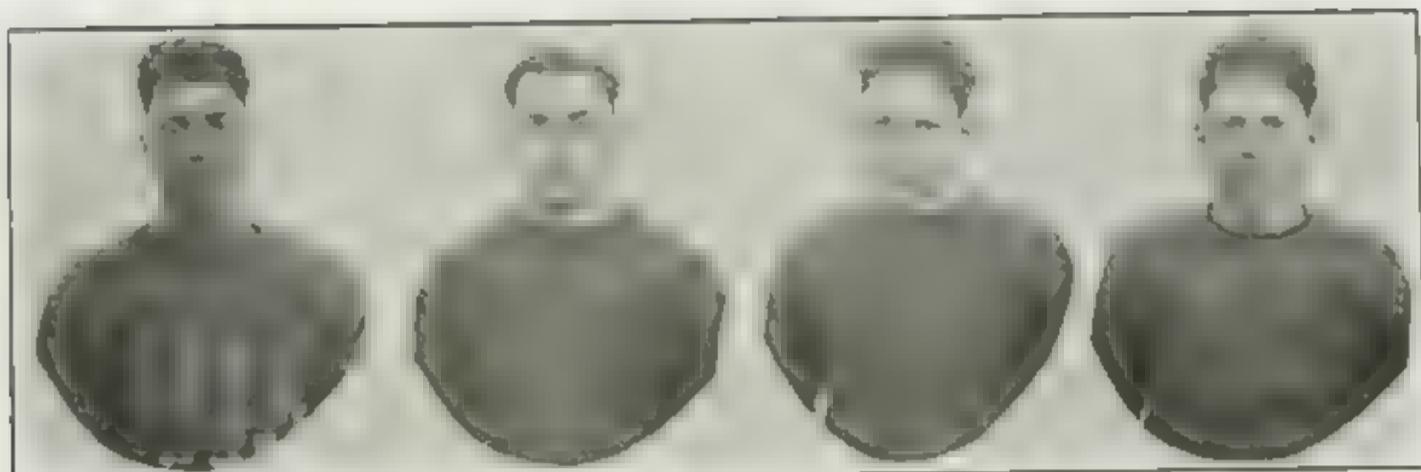

Central's blue jerseyed gridmen suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Canon City Tigers on Home-coming Day.

In the first half neither team seemed strong enough to score although this period was decidedly Central's. The teams were evenly matched in both weight and speed.

At the first of the fourth period, Canon started a succession of trick plays which put the ball on the six yard line. On the next play a Central man was off side which brought the ball one yard from the goal line. Mercer took the ball across on a cross buck through center. Nickol's try for the extra point was good. A few minutes later Rinker was tackled behind the line as a result of a wide pass from center.

The tally was Central 0, Canon 9

Rinker kicked to Walker who fumbled on Florence's eleven yard line. The Wildcats recovered and on the next play Batie carried the ball around left-end for a touchdown. At the first of the third quarter Central scored her second touchdown when O'Rourke completed a pass from Hauth and went thirty yards to the goal. In the fourth quarter the Wildcats scored four touchdowns. The Huskies got possession of the ball only once during the entire period. The game ended Central 32, Florence 6.

THE CENTENNIAL GAME

The Centennial game brings forth the best in both teams. This year the game was an exceedingly fitting climax to a most successful season. The game won for Central the City Championship as well as third place in the South Central League.

No game of the season was more replete with thrills; few games are won and lost as many times. Centennial scored a place kick in the second quarter. Although repeatedly in Centennial territory Central failed to score until fourth quarter. Three times the Wildcats attempted place kicks. Three times Central rooters had visions of a tied score. Three times the pigskin missed the goal posts. Incompleted passes were numerous.

Four minutes left to play. Rinker ripped off an end run. A pass from Ballas to O'Roark successfully completed netted a good gain. Hauth passed to Batie and the captain ran across for a touchdown.

The score was — Central 6, Centennial 3.

The baseball schedule was arranged just as the basketball was. The class of 1929, under the leadership of Grace Woods, carried off the championship in baseball.

After baseball another tennis tournament was held. This is the class tournament. Each class had three players, one for singles and two for the doubles team. Here the class of 1927 showed its skill and claimed the tennis title for the year.

An innovation this year has been the idea of the Central-Centennial Play Day. The tennis play day was on ~~even~~ in October on the Central courts. Later two volley ball play days were held, one at Central and the other at Centennial. The idea of the athletic play day emphasizes the fun of sharing your game with new friends, rather than the glory of defeating rivals.

The Cheer Leaders

J. D. Allison and Al Crona have been our cheer leaders for two years. At every athletic contest these two have been instrumental in creating a good spirit in our school. We know that Central's spirit as well as her cheering is getting better and better. We may attribute this success, in part at least, to the untiring efforts of our faithful cheer leaders.

CONCERNING THIS SECTION

W

E hope you will read and enjoy this section. In it you will find many funny jokes, and the record of many humorous incidents. We have tried to record some of the good laughs of the past year.

In it you will also find names of Central's most loyal boosters—the Business Men of Pueblo. They always boost Central; they made this book possible. We hope you will consult this section when in need of something. Then make your purchase from advertisers herein represented.

"A little learning is a dangerous thing!
Drink deep or taste not the Pierian spring,
Fired at first sight with what the muse imparts,
In fearless youth, we tempt the height of arts,
While from the bounded level of our mind
Short views we take, nor mind the lengths behind;
But more advanced, behold with strange surprise,
New distant scenes of endless science rise."

FOR 39 YEARS CREWS-BEGGS HAS BEEN LEARNING TO SERVE PUEBLO AND THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN REGION

Changed conditions that have brought our present-day institutions of learning have also produced a new and better type of merchandising.

No longer are we content to go to the general store in some out-of-the-way place poorly kept ill-lighted, to take what we can get from the incomplete stocks that may be available.

Merchants, too, have been going to school. The modern department stores of today are a direct result of intensive thinking and planning, knowledge gained from a study of the science of merchandising.

The measure of success that we have enjoyed may be attributed to the fact that we continually endeavor to learn ways and means for our own betterment in order that we may render the best of service to our customers.

It is our earnest desire that, in the coming years, we may continue to share in your patronage, merited because we have not been content with just "a little learning."

A Chinese newspaper published this letter from an applicant for work:
Sir: I am Wang. . . . I can drive typewriter with good noise and my English is great. . . . My last job has left itself from me, for good reason that large man has dead. It was in account of fault of mine. So honorable sirs, what about it? If I can be of big use to you, I will arive on some date that you should guess.

"Everything in Music"

Over twenty-eight years of conscientious high-class service to Pueblo and its trade territory.

In many of your homes are musical instruments purchased from the Silver State Music Co. over a quarter of a century ago, and these instruments are still giving splendid service.

Pauline: If you went boating would Cicero?

Maxine: No, Bob Wood.

Max: "Who give you yer black eye?"

Bill White: "No one. I was lookin' thro' a knot-hole in the fence at a football match, and got it sunburnt."

One day a school teacher told her class to write an essay on "Income Tax." One boy taxed his brain to the utmost, and at length he wrote the following:

"I have a dog, his name is Tax; I opened the door, and income Tax."

55 Years in Pueblo
